Note: This variable was created to assist users in their analysis of reference jobs. The reference job section of the layout contains data for a maximum of two reference jobs - the first and the most recent. Where data are available for one reference job only these data are always shown in the first reference job fields. Where data are available for two reference jobs there is information in both the first and most recent reference job section. For some respondents the job they held last week was the first and/or most recent reference job. In this case data are repeated from the last week's job section. This variable will help users to identify if respondents had one or more reference jobs, the location of the reference job information and overlaps with the last week's job information. For further assistance consult the "User's Guide".
